CIGARS.

SMOKE

Smoke tobacco only. So many of the so-called cigars that you buy here, there and elsewhere are made of weeds that only resemble tobacco. When you want a cigar well made, from selected tobacco, you will find it at Hamilton's, and you will be able to get it just to suit your taste exactly, from the mildest through all grades up to the strongest. You can always rely upon the fact when you buy a cigar at Hamilton's that it contains nothing but tobacco.

PROPOSED LEE AND GRANT MONUMENTS.

WAR MONUMENTS IN GENERAL AND PARTICULARLY IN WASHINGTON, To the Editor of the Alexandria Gazette.

It has been recently proposed to erect on the Spotsylvania battlefield a joint monument to Lee and Grant and expression of opinion on the subject from Confederate veterans has been invited. For one, I say no. Such memorials are not wholly unprecedented, as appears from that of Wolfe and Montcalm at Quebec, erected probably more than a century after the immortal battle in which both fell, but that was no doubt inspired by the fact that they died together. There is no more reason why Grant and Lee, if commemorated at all together, should be so at Spotsylvania more than anywhere else, and the idea of joint commemoration is positively objectionable. It would be a virtual concession that these two eminent men were equally conscientious, equally deserving and equally illustrious and this I, for one, am far from being willing to allow. I have, in fact, no inclination to unite directly or indirectly in building monuments to our late foe and assuredly they do not need our assistance.

This brings up the whole subject of memorials of those who fell in the war between the states. Have so many of them as you please but have them only on their own ground. We, of the South, have neither room nor welcome for statues of men who did all they could, less than half a century ago, for our destruction, and the less we are reminded of them the better. We risk nothing in saying that our late foes feel the same way in regard to any statue of a Confederate soldier on their soil; at least they ought to do so. The field of Gettysburg now, as many of your readers are aware, has an array of memorials of men who fell there on the northern side which for beauty, taste and dignity compels the admiration of all. I viewed them some years ago with profound interest and was gratified to see no such reminder of a single Confederate. They have no proper place there where they could excite, if not positive animosity, no kinder feeling than toleration; and speaking for myself I do not give even that to similar federal monuments on our soil.

In this connection the placing in the national capital of memorials to men distinguished on either side for services in our great conflict, has always appeared to me at least a monstrous impropriety. Washington is the capital of our common country and monument of men, whose only claim to be remembered in their services in civil conflict, must necessarily be offensive to those of the other side and directly hostile to the restoration of good feeling between the sections. So far, I am thankful to say no Confederate hero is thus commemorated there, and I trust none ever will be. The most elaborate and beautiful monument in the city is that in honor of the one Federal soldier whose conduct justly rendered him the most hateful of all men to the South. The addition during the present week of a like tribute to the man who, in Virginia, at least, was equally detested, does not mend matters. It is idle for our late enemies to talk about "bridging the bloody chasm" and restoring good feeling while they continue to offer to the South such insults as the erection in Washington of statues to Sherman and Sheridan.

MRS. GOULD'S TROUBLE.

According to a story revived at El Paso, Tex., Miss Anna Gould's troubles with French woeers began 15 years ago in that city. Here is the tale:

In 1893 Jay Gould spent a month at El Paso for his health and was accompanied by his daughter, Anna. At an entertainment at the opera house one night Miss Gould received a large bouquet with the card of "Dr. Munn" attached. Supposing she had met the man at some reception she accepted the flowers. Munn, a Frenchman, was then working in a barber shop there. The next day, the story runs, while the beauties and a friend were sitting alone in the Gould privy, Munn entered, clad in Miss Gould's arms, exclaiming, "I know you love me; now is the time for us to be married," and tried to carry her away. A private detective rescued her. Jay Gould refused to prosecute Munn.

Quick climatic changes try strong constitutions and cause, among other evils, nasal catarrh, a troublesome and offensive disease. Sneezing and sniffing, coughing and difficult breathing, and the drip, drip of the foul discharge into the throat—all are ended by Ely's Cream Balm. This household remedy contains no cocaine, mercury or other harmful ingredient. The worst cases yield to treatment in a short time. All drug-gists, 50¢, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren Street, New York.

Try Kodol today on our guarantee. Take it for a while, as that is all you will need to take. Kodol digests what you eat and makes the stomach sweet. It is sold by W. F. Creighton & Co.

Toys, Dolls, Games

We offer a collection of Toys this year that is the best we have ever brought together. Almost every article was selected by our toy buyer in Europe.

The novelties and the old standbys are here in the broadest variety, and the prices throughout are most reasonable.

There's a multitude of odd little trinkets for the stocking and the Xmas tree—and there are great big Automobiles, and Moving Picture Machines, and Children's Furniture, and Velocipedes, and Tricycles, and Buckboards, and G-carts, and Rocking Horses, and Mechanical Trains and Stations, and Tool Chests, and Sleds, and Thrusters, and Mechanical Boats, and—but we shall not attempt to enumerate them all. We want the children to come and see them.

Our "W. & L. Special" German Doll at $1.00.

This Doll, we believe, has no equal anywhere. We had it made expressly for us in Germany, and had to take several thousand to get one as good. It is 22 inches high (exact measurement); has best hand-sewed natural wig, best bisque head, full ball-jointed body, moving eyes, exposed teeth, shoes and stockings. The face is prettier and more life-like than ever. In short, it is a doll of quality, and a special value at $1.00.

Our "W. & L. Special" French Doll at $1.00.

This is the first time a French Doll has ever been produced to sell for a dollar. It is a most beautiful and life-like doll; has handsome hand-sewed wig, full jointed body, exposed teeth, and shoes and stockings. This doll is a special value at $1.00.

THE FLYING TOP—one of the latest imported novelties.

THE REFLECTOSCOP—the new machine that takes the place of the Magic Lantern. Any kind of photograph, newspaper cut, or post card can be used with this machine, and with either gas or electric light.

RUBBER RUBBLES—to make bubbles without water.

THE SIMPLEX TYPEWRITER—4 very practical toy, both amusing and instructive.

THE AUTOMOBILE PRINTING PRESS—another practical and instructive toy.
